

Capability Statement

Company Overview

Wamee is a highly respected, globally focused technology company, with headquarters in Sydney, Australia. Specialising in supplying cutting-edge hardware and technology solutions to a range of industries, including military, public safety, mining, and healthcare sectors around the world.

With a strong presence in both developed and emerging markets, we have established ourselves as a trusted partner for organisations of all sizes and industries worldwide. Our global network of partners, suppliers, and clients allows us to bring the latest technology innovations and best practices to our customers, regardless of their location or industry.

At Wamee, we believe that technology has the power to transform the world and improve people's lives. That's why we are committed to creating innovative, user-friendly, and reliable technology solutions that help our clients achieve greater levels of success, efficiency, and impact, regardless of their geographic location.

Engineered rugged from the inside out, Wamee's rugged devices demonstrate unparalleled toughness, enduring the most challenging conditions. From surviving repeated drops and extreme temperatures to conquering water, dust, and the harshness of Australia's environment, our devices prove their unwavering mettle in every situation.

Our Laptops and Tablets are tested for HERO (Hazard of Electromagnetic Radiation to Ordnance), MIL-STD-461F for EMI and EMC tolerance, IP65 for water and dust resistance, and MIL-STD-810G/H for shock and vibration protection. They are also designed and tested to function in severe locations and climates, demonstrating dependability and durability in environments with significant vibrations or extreme weather.

Your Concept, Our Expertise

Our ability to promptly tailor units to precise specifications and deliver them within strict timelines is unmatched, whether the requirement is for a handful of items or hundreds of units. We specialise in customising computers and adjusting equipment connectors to seamlessly integrate with your entire system. Utilising cutting-edge technology, our development department ensures excellence in designing, developing, and manufacturing our product range, as well as in customising computers to meet our clients' unique requirements. With service centres in Sydney, Brisbane, Melbourne and Perth, we offer quick turnaround repairs, with onsite and offsite repair services.

Experience streamlined product development with our customer-centric approach, tailored to meet your unique needs. At our core, we prioritise your requirements, ensuring that every aspect of our product aligns with your expectations. When you express interest in a new product, we delve into detailed discussions, not only to understand your explicit requirements but also to anticipate your needs, allowing us to tailor our solutions precisely to your specifications. Get in touch with us to discuss your project.
